

AN ORDINANCE FOR WEST PENN.

Work Can Now Proceed on Leisenring Avenue and Seventh.

SILGO EXONERATION IS HELD UP

Tax Collector George D. Brown Has Over $2,000 Lopped Off His 1909 Duplicates, Aside From the Silgo Item of Over $400 by Connell.

Town Council held a featureless meeting last evening, a number of routine matters coming up for consideration. The principal business of the evening was the passing of West Penna. franchise ordinance giving the railway company the right to occupy Seventh street from Main to the barns and Leisenring avenue from 15th to 20th street to the Pennsylvania railroad. Now the ordinance has been granted the work of changing the tracks on the West Side can be started without delay. Seventh street is to be paved as fast as it is occupied by the West Penna. two-thirds of the cost to be borne by the railway company and the remaining one-third by the Western Maryland.

The 1909 exonerations of George D. Brown were passed, excepting $460.86 for the Silgo Iron & Steel Company and $421.16 in Greenwood, both held up for further consideration. The exonerations totalled $2,072.33, as they were allowed. Councilman Burns, who delayed action at the last meeting, would not vote until assured positively that the Silgo exoneration had been held over.

The matter of changing two telephone poles for the Hill Grove cemetery Company was referred to the Street Committee after much discussion. The cemetery company wants the poles moved 18 inches to make a better appearance of the street and alignment of their new concrete wall. The records of the Borough Engineer show this would narrow the street by four or five feet. President Joseph T. Johnston of the cemetery company said he would get out a petition to have the street narrowed and in the meantime the Street Committee and engineers will look it over.

The Cochran and Hasey properties on North Eighth street, West Side, are making trouble for Council just now because the change of grade necessitated by the railroad improvements have left them too low. President Millard advised them to use the borough, the railroad guaranteeing it from loss from damages, but the matter will be gone over before any definite action will be taken. It is claimed the Hasey property was built low before a grade of the street was established. When the grade was set it had to be made high to allow for proper drainage.

Road lights and pavements are wanted of the Pennsylvania railroad. The clerk was directed to notify the railroad to lay sidewalks under its bridge on First and Second streets and place warning lights on the low viaducts over Second, Third and Fourth streets. Councilman Friel was of opinion that the old New Haven franchise should be looked into before action is taken, but he voted for the motion and then seconded C. M. Stover's motion for the red lights. As for a crossing over Seventh street, suggested by Councilman Buttermore, the matter was allowed to go by default in favor of the West Penna. who get a crossing agreement there.

The Cottage avenue property line came up again when Mr. Frankenberg asked for a line. There will be a view there some of these days. In the meantime the Street Committee will go over the ground with the Borough Engineer and also up the line that has been worked out of the tangle of irregularities.

The Street Committee was directed to give immediate attention to the grading of South Arch street, for the benefit of George Fuchler and others. Chairman Friel asked that Davidson avenue be graded from Pittsburgh to Race street but he was directed to give prior attention to Arch.

Hills for paving Ashmun avenue were not opened because it was discovered an ordinance had been passed permitting the thoroughfare to be paved. Councilman Friel said the solicitors should have advised Council to that effect long ago. President Millard was of opinion that the solicitors got Council into a hole there. "We are not lawyers," he said. Councilman Buttermore kicked against the delay which caused Friel to suggest that as he was a member of the Street Committee, the West Side area should not have gone to sleep on the job. The ordinance will be ready at the next meeting. The Street Committee was directed to see that a drop at Fairview avenue and Halsey alley. The next meeting will be held November 5.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO PAY VISIT TO CONNELLVILLE NOV. 1ST.

Has Changed Itinerary and Will Come Here on Way to Morgantown After His Visit to Pittsburgh on October 31—Adds 18 Days to His Schedule.

William Howard Taft will pass through Connellsville for the first time since becoming President, either on October 31 or November 1. A special train from abroad, which is now on the Pacific Coast, states that the 40 day itinerary has not given the President enough of travel and he has added another 18 days to the original schedule. The announcement today states that the President, instead of returning to Washington after his engagement in Pittsburgh on October 31, will instead leave the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio at Connellsville and proceed to Morgantown, where he will attend a college affair at West Virginia University and then go to Hot Springs, Va., for a five day rest. On leaving Hot Springs he will go to Cincinnati, eat his bullet and then take up a tour of Kentucky and Tennessee before finally arriving in Washington. Connellsville has never had a glimpse of the President, at least since he assumed that high office, and it is not unlikely that the train may go through here during the day. It will stop here long enough to take water, at least, and those who gather at the station may have the opportunity of hearing a year platform address such as Theodore Roosevelt made a few years ago when going east in a special car attached to No. 6.

It is probable that the Chamber of Commerce or Burgess Evans will endeavor to have the President arrange his schedule in such a manner that will permit stopping in Connellsville on his way to Morgantown.

Kight Remains Sent to Piedmont

The body of the late John Kight, who was killed in the Trotter mines yesterday morning, was shipped to Piedmont, W. Va., this morning on B. & O. train No. 6 by Funeral Director J. L. Stader. The body will be removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Lamb, from which place services will be held. Superintendent P. J. Tormay and Constable and Mrs. William Holand accompanied the remains to Piedmont.

Mr. Kight was one of the most trusted employees of the company. He had been in the employ of the company for 27 years and was never idle only about every two years when he would take a short vacation. He was a man of exemplary habits and always paid strict attention to his business. In his death the company has lost one of their most efficient workmen. Mr. Kight was widely known in West Virginia and Maryland and was related to some of the most prominent families of Piedmont and Western port.

Fayette Fans at Baseball Battle

The Fayette county delegation to the World's Series games is attracting some attention. The Fayette county delegation is the 33rd degree and are taking in the contents both in Philadelphia and New York.

"The Public Ledger of Philadelphia notes the presence in the vast assemblage of State Senator W. B. Crow, Chief Clerk H. M. Kephart of the Senate and Mrs. Kephart, A. A. Straub, Antonio Bufano, H. Claude Hays, R. P. Kennedy, Frank M. Lardin and George Gibson. Attorney Kennedy broke into fame by being described as having been a star pitcher during his college days at Lafayette.

The party went to New York yesterday and witnessed the thrilling eleven inning struggle there.

Will Aid in Hospital Work

A meeting of the organization recently formed by the Young Peoples' societies of five of the local churches, to aid in hospital work, will be held Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of reporting the progress which is being made. The five societies have already pledged $5 each and yesterday an order was made out for a number of books to be donated to the Cottage State hospital.

The books will include reading material suitable for young and old and a special effort will be made to secure reading material for the foreigners. As yet the organization has not been named.

Conductor Leckenby Out of the Hospital

B. & O. Conductor James E. Leckenby, who was injured at Confluence, was discharged from the Cottage State hospital this afternoon and returned to his home on Sycamore street. Conductor Leckenby lost an arm as the result of the accident.

Peter Jagodka, who was badly burned as the result of an accident with which he met at the B. & O. round house last August, was discharged from the institution this morning.

Fair Weather Promised.
Fair weather is promised for tonight and tomorrow.

No Game in Big Series Today

There will be no game today between Philadelphia and New York. It began raining in torrents last night at Philadelphia and did not cease until 10 o'clock this morning. In the meantime the field was so badly soaked that the game today was out of the question.

The teams will rest this afternoon and both managers are content that weather conditions have given them men an enforced layoff.

United Press Telegram.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Philadelphia today is baseball mad and the chances are that tomorrow's crowd will be the largest ever packed into the ball park here. The weather forecast is for clear weather tonight and tomorrow. The victorious Athletics are the heroes of the hour. There is some talk of presenting the City Hall to Frank Baker and if a popular vote was taken he might be awarded the big pile of masonry. "Iron Man" Coombs is also an idol. Today he is a rival of Baker for public esteem.

The Giants arrived last night. The New Yorkers are not popular in Philadelphia, as was evidenced by the reception that greeted them last night. Fred Snodgrass' action in diving first into Baker yesterday won for him the whole-hearted enmity of every Quaker fan. Yells of "Spiker" and "Dirty ball player" mingled with hisses, caused him to turn pale and then red with anger. His fellow players gathered about him as if expecting an attack. They hurried him out of the depot and to the Hotel Majestic.

Swollen Streams Claim Five Lives

United Press Telegram.
BELLARE, Oct. 18.—Mrs. John Moxem, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Moxem, and the latter's daughter, Mary, were drowned when their buggy was overturned in the flood of Short creek, near Rayland yesterday evening.

Mrs. Louise Vincent and her son, aged 6, were drowned in the same way near Bridgeport.

GREENVILLE, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Ed. Mecher, aged 23, and her daughter, Mamie, aged 4, were drowned last night when the flood overturned the rig while fording the river. The husband escaped. The mother's body was found early today. Two other rigs were upset but the occupants escaped.

Hard Rain Sends River Up Rapidly

The hard rain of yesterday and last night had its effect upon the river, which rose two feet in little more than 12 hours. The gauge showed a stage of 6.40 feet this morning.

The temperature this morning was 58 degrees, somewhat lower than the 58 mark of yesterday morning. It was 63 last evening.

New Pastor Coming.
Rev. A. B. Wilson, now pastor of the United Brethren church, will move to Connellsville tomorrow and will occupy the parsonage on Race street. Rev. Wilson and family were detained at Beaver Falls on account of a contagious illness of a small daughter. Rev. Wilson delivered his first sermon to his congregation last Sunday morning.

Adams to Lead Charlelot.
Jack Adams, the former Homestead and Uniontown player, has accepted terms to lead the Charlelot team this year. Adams and not Pont will captain the Cherubs.

TRAVELING MAN IS STRICKEN IN HOTEL.

M. L. Summers Attacked by Epileptic Fit in Writing
Room of Royal.

SUGGUMBED AT THE HOSPITAL

Physicians Were Unable to Check
Convulsions and Attack Proved Fatal—Travelled Out of Pittsburgh for Pillsbury Flour Company.

M. L. Summers, a traveling man well known in this section, was attacked with an epileptic fit in the writing room of the Royal Hotel about 9:30 last night and died shortly after 2 o'clock this morning at the Cottage State hospital. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. L. Stader and will be shipped to James Creek, Huntingdon county, this afternoon. Summers was single and is survived by his mother, who lives at James Creek. He had been traveling out of Pittsburgh for the Pillsbury Flour Company for the past 15 years. E. H. Mack, manager of the company's Pittsburgh office, stated he had not known Summers to be attacked by a fit for the past two years, although he was subject to them occasionally before that time.

Summers came into the writing room last night and began on a letter. Shortly after he started he inquired of the porter if there was any objection to using the room. He was assured that it was there for the convenience of guests. When the porter left the room there was apparently nothing wrong with the man.

It was 9:30 that S. S. Meek, a traveling man of Connocton, O., entered the writing room, which is lost off from the office. There he found Mr. Summers stretched upon the floor and writhing in convulsions. Both Proprietor A. D. Solowson and Clerk Fred Hohner were called and efforts made to secure medical attention. Dr. H. C. Hoffman was the first to arrive. He took charge of the case. Drs. B. B. Edie, R. S. McKee and C. W. Uta also responded. Before Dr. McKee arrived it was impossible to get chloroform to relieve or check the violent convulsions; the drug stores being closed and it was impossible to reach any of them by phone. Dr. McKee happened to have a phial of the fluid in his case when he came.

The physicians worked constantly with the man for almost an hour. It was then decided to send him to the Cottage State hospital but at that institution it was impossible to stop the convulsions and Mr. Summers died shortly after two o'clock.

At the hotel Mr. Solowson could only get the address where the deceased lived and he was given as 512 Franklin avenue, Wilkensburg. The Pillsbury company was notified and E. H. Mack came here this morning to take charge of the body. Summers was about 42 years of age.

Six Veniremen May Not Serve

United Press Telegram.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Despite the fact that six veniremen have already been passed by the defense, it was made absolutely certain by today's developments that only one, John W. Roberts has a possible chance of remaining through the trial. His fate is still undecided as far as the State is concerned but he probably will be challenged because he boldly told Attorney Darrow that after experiences with the cooperation of a non-union glass factory and other personal investigation in Indiana offices he was convinced that inasmuch as capital is organized, labor should have the same right.

"Kid" McCoy to Take Eighth Wife

United Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Norman Sulzfar—Kid McCoy—and Mrs. Edna G. Helt, divorcee and daughter of the great "Honduras King," refused to disclose the date of their marriage. It is believed it will come within the next two weeks. It will be McCoy's eighth marriage.

Hutton Sentenced.
Grover C. Hutton was sentenced to six months in the Allegheny county jail by the United States Circuit Court for forging a signature on a money order payable at the local postoffice. He was sentenced yesterday in Pittsburgh.

MANY TYPHOID FEVER CASES REPORTED IN CONNELLVILLE.

Four New Ones Develop Today and Health Officer Hyatt is Kept Busy Placarding Houses—Other Sickness Prevalent.

Typhoid fever is becoming prevalent in town and the unseasonable weather has resulted in an unusual number of colds and other ailments, some of them serious. The physicians are kept busy and Health Officer Hyatt Hyatt says he does not recall an autumn since he has held his job that there have been so many houses to placard. Not only is illness more prevalent than usual within the city, but in the townships where Hyatt has jurisdiction as a State sanitary officer many cases are being reported.

This morning three new cases of typhoid fever were reported. DeWitt Stanford of the East Park addition is ill with the fever as is his son, Robert, aged 15. Leo Lowery, aged 17, son of Jerry Lowery of Edna street is also reported ill.

Mrs. G. Braden is seriously ill of pneumonia at her home at Coalbrook. Mrs. Braden was formerly Miss Gertrude Turner of Connellsville.

Miss Hazel Weber, a well known teacher in the Dunbar township school is ill of typhoid fever at her home on South Arch street. Miss Weber teaches at Wheeler.

The condition of Miss Lena Murphy, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever, is slightly improved. She rested well last night and this morning the slight improvement in her condition was reported. Miss Murphy is chief operator in the local office of the Tri-State Telephone Company.

The condition of Mrs. Ernest Still, wagon and small son, Fred, who are ill of scarlet fever, is still very serious.

South Brownsville Firemen Active

Special to The Courier.
UNIONTOWN, Oct. 18.—Prothonotary William McClelland and his clerk, C. M. Fee, went to South Brownsville last night and assisted in the organization of a Firemen's relief association. This morning Prothonotary McClelland filed the application of the South Brownsville Firemen's Relief Association for a charter. The subscribers are H. O. Hornbaker, L. W. Shallenberger, Homer Walcott, H. G. Worcester, D. C. W. Pringle, J. T. Labbi, S. H. Deddinghafer and W. C. Denton.

A bid in divorce was filed this morning in behalf of Lucania Pastores against Daniel Pastores, who were married July 7, 1906. Desertion is the charge. The libellant lives at York Run and the respondent at Mason-town.

The Singer Sewing Machine Company today entered a replevin suit against Anna Seely and Frank Canuso to recover sewing machines valued at $38 each.

A petition was filed for the transfer of the license at the Bar House in South Brownsville from John E. Rickard to Luke Melles, effective October 31.

Young Meckes was Planning to Leave

Harry Meckes, son of Frank Meckes of East Main street, had planned to run away from home yesterday but was detected by his older brother, Claude, who held Harry until the police arrived. Claude caught Harry near City Hall and Constable J. W. Mitchell and Chief of Police George Hetzel took charge of the lad. He was kept at the lockup pending a decision regarding the disposition of his case.

The lad had a tiny revolver, .22 calibre, and a knife on him. He had cut the ends of the Robert cartridges to make them fit. One chamber of the six shooter was empty. The lad had left his grip at the home of an Italian named Pinella, having planned to run off with one of the Pinella boys.

Burgess Evans Signs Ordinances

Burgess J. L. Evans this morning signed his signature to the franchise ordinance passed last night by Town Council granting the West Penna. Interurban Railways Company the right to occupy Seventh street and Leisenring avenue, on the West Side.

The Burgess was familiar with the provisions of the ordinance, having attended the meeting of the Ordinance Committee on Monday evening when the franchise was discussed with representatives of the West Penna. The provisions met with his full approval and he lost no time affixing his signature to the document.

Maxwell Wins Toss.
BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—William Maxwell, of Towanda, became the Republican nominee for Judge of Bradford county today by drawing lots with A. B. Fanning, with whom he was tied for the nomination. Both received 6,234 votes at the primary. Under the law they had to draw lots in the presence of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Army Captain Suicides.
LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Captain W. B. Carr of the Sixth field artillery committed suicide by shooting himself today. The cause is not known.

HENRY G. DAVIS ON WESTERN MARYLAND

West Virginia Financier Has Nothing But Praise
for

CONNECTING LINK IN THIS CITY

Says, in an interview at Baltimore, That Through It a Tremendous Tonnage Will Come to the Western Maryland and the Port of Baltimore.

Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis of Elk-ins, W. Va., and president of the Coal & Coke railroad, is one of the country's well known railway magnates who look for big things for the Western Maryland Railway Company, as the result of its traffic agreement, which it has entered into with the New York Central railroad at Connellsville.

The former Senator from West Virginia has been spending several days in Baltimore and when seen yesterday consented to discuss Western Maryland affairs. He was particularly enthusiastic in his praise of President Alexander Robertson, and the work which he is doing in carrying out the progressive policies of the road and predicted that a large traffic would be diverted to this port by reason of the step which the Western Maryland had taken in linking up at Connellsville with one of the big railroad systems of the country.

"The alliance of the Western Maryland with the New York Central at Connellsville," said Ex-Senator Davis, "is going to mean much to the Western Maryland and the city of Baltimore. Under the agreement as entered into the New York Central gains a new seaport outlet, and the Western Maryland enters, Pittsburgh and will have the opportunity to tap, through the New York Central connections, the great Northwestern territory of the United States. A large tonnage originates in this territory, and the Western Maryland is going to share in the business which is destined for the Atlantic seaboard. I look for a big increase in its business."

"The Western Maryland is in good shape and President Robertson has been successful in carrying out the progressive policies of the road. The road gained the confidence of the people and I do not hesitate to predict big things for it."

"Anything that benefits the Western Maryland," added Ex-Senator Davis, "is bound to benefit Baltimore and Maryland. More business will be handled through that port, and Baltimore will become more important as a terminal city so far as the Western Maryland is concerned."

Ex-Senator Davis stated that his own railroad was in good shape, and that business was holding up satisfactorily. The Western Maryland touches the Coal & Coke railroad at Elk-ins, W. Va., and considerable tonnage is exchanged between the two properties.

Doctors Not to Quit Night Calls

A rumor has gained considerable circulation that the physicians of town contemplate adopting a rule that no night calls will be made after 5 P. M. Just where the story originated cannot be learned. It is believed that the agreement of the druggists to close at 9:30 each evening may have given rise to the rumor that the physicians also intended to eliminate the overtime.

A prominent physician, active in both the local and county medical societies, stated today that the matter had never been mentioned at any of the meetings. He had not heard the report.

"It is in the code of medical ethics that physicians shall answer calls at all hours," he explained. "I do not think it probable that the matter would be given serious consideration by the local medical society."

Marcus Marietta is Quietly Married

James Marcus Marietta, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, was quietly married yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the hotel. The ceremony, which took place at 2 o'clock, was performed by Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark. Mr. Marietta was united in marriage to Miss Annie Tuback. Mr. Marietta has been twice married. His first wife died on January 1, 1908. He is one of the best known residents of Connellsville and prior to moving into the St. James Hotel had for years made his home at the corner of Orchard and Mountain alleys, which property he still owns.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE.

Blowing Out of Furnace Hit Upon Unlucky Weather
or Conditions

FOR THE WIND BLEW WRONG

Funeral of Peter Stinemann Took Place Yesterday—Scottsdale Folks Were
Also at Burial of Mrs. Christina
Lowe—Mr. and Mrs. Hanks Home.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Oct. 18.—The weather beat its records for windy conditions yesterday, when it was reinforced by the Scottsdale furnace. The latter was starting to blow out yesterday, for repairs to be made, and it could not have fallen upon a worse day for the work. It is an exceedingly rare thing for the wind to come from the direction of the mills right up over the town, but yesterday was the great exception. With an air heavy with murkiness and rain the clouds worked themselves straight from the furnace over the town. Several ships in the furnace went down with a roar like thunder or crashes like cannon, followed by huge clouds of smoke, gas and ashes belched out of the furnace top. There was continual rain of fine ashes and the smoke and dust hung suffocatingly thick over the town, much to the discomfort of the people. The noise of the ships caused fright among many, but no one was hurt when the tons of metal and limestone fell. Some hearing the reports yesterday and not knowing their cause thought that the town was being wrecked. There have been wild rumors during the week of people receiving anonymous letters threatening that the town is to be blown up. When the noise of the Citizens Water Company sprung a leak the night previous a report went around that the town was to be cut off from water and the line had been dynamited. The furnace will be out for a few weeks. It is said, and complete repairs and some improvements will be made. The most of the men will find work right along at the place. The fire alarm whistles are on the furnace and steam will be kept in the boilers so that the alarm can be given if any time it is needed.

A Large Funeral.
The funeral of Peter Stinemann, who died on Sunday at the home of his daughter-in-law, the widow of the late Samuel L. Stinemann, of the White school house, took place on Tuesday afternoon, with services at the Mt. Zion Church, followed by burial in the churchyard at that place. The deceased was aged 91 years, five months and 14 days, and was one of the oldest people in this neighborhood. He was born in Germany and when a lad of 10 years of age came with his mother to the United States, settling in Cambria county. After reaching manhood he came to Westmoreland county, taking up his residence in Sawickley township. He worked as a cooper both at that place and later at West Overton, where he was employed at the Overholt distillery. Later in life he bought the farm west of town, now occupied by John Brengle. This farm Mr. Stinemann improved with a fine new house and planted a large orchard. He cultivated the farm until 1907 when he sold it and retired from active labor. He was a member of the Reformed Church. Mr. Stinemann was twice married, his first wife being Mary Stevenson, to whom one son was born, the late Samuel L. Stinemann. After the death of the first wife he married Sarah Rugh.

Mrs. Christina Lowe.
A number of Scottsdale people were at Mt. Pleasant yesterday attending the funeral of Mrs. Christina Lowe, who died in the 54th year of her age, from pneumonia, on Sunday. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter-in-law, the wife of an only son, Christ Lowe, who died April 23, 1909. Mrs. Lowe is husband and died the same year. The deceased leaves two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Levi Fox of Greensburg, Mrs. Chris Ruff of Tarr, Samuel Strohm of Mt. Pleasant and Jacob Strohm of Altoona. She had been a faithful member of the Mennonite church for a quarter of a century. Services were held at the late residence, 710 Main street, where hymns were sung and Rev. Daniel Kaufman of Scottsdale, read the Scripture lesson. The church services were at the Mt. Zion Baptist church, where Rev. Aaron Loucks read the 1st Psalm and Rev. Kaufman preached a short sermon, followed by a talk by Rev. W. H. Guyer, pastor of the Church of God of Altoona. Burial followed at Mt. Pleasant.

An Infant Dies.
May Madeline Pritchard, aged three months and 21 days, infant daughter of C. P. and Mary Pritchard, died this morning at No. 322 Cottage avenue. The body will be shipped to Weston, W. Va., for interment this evening on B. & O. train No. 1 by Funeral Director J. E. Sims.

"Buster Brown" Company Fine

"Buster Brown" made a big hit at the Solson yesterday afternoon and last evening. It is seldom a musical comedy that has been on the road several successive seasons maintaining such a high standard of quality in its cast and splendid choreography who "took a chance" on "Buster Brown" were frankly surprised.
The principals were not only clever but the chorus was both active and comely. The company which presented "Buster Brown" at the Solson yesterday was far better than a good many co-called "new" shows that have broken into the Solson during the past season or two.

SOCIETY.

Invitations for Receptions.
Miss Druanna Johns has issued invitations for a reception to be given Wednesday afternoon, October 25, at her home in Mt. Vernon avenue Uniontown, in honor of her guests, Miss Kattie Mae Capps and Miss Alma Capps of Fourth Ward, Troy.

The J. O. C. Society.
The regular meeting of the J. O. C. Society of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school was held last evening at the home of Miss George McClellan on South Prospect street. Owing to the inclement weather the attendance was smaller than usual. There was no business meeting. A delightful social meeting was held and refreshments were served. Miss A. S. Drobot of Fairmont, W. Va., was an out of town guest.

Ten Cent Tea.
At a ten cent tea held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frances Marsh on South Pittsburgh street, Miss Alma Novemore, a bride elect of the near future, was tendered a miscellaneous shower. The affair was given by the women of the Christian Church. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant afternoon was spent by all present.

Moose Banquet.
Prominent among the invited guests at the Moose banquet tonight will be J. J. Davis, Supreme Organizer of the L. O. O. M. of the World. Other prominent members of the order from Ohio and Pennsylvania will be present and address the gathering. W. B. Rice, Dictator, will be toastmaster for the occasion. All is now prepared for one of the most noted gatherings the Moose has ever held in Connelleville. The progress of the organization during the past three years has been phenomenal and to day their numerical strength far exceeds the brightest anticipations of their most ardent members.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.
The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church will be held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. R. C. Davis on Madison avenue.

FOOLISH RISKS

Some Things No Wise Man or Woman Will Do.

It's not wise to monkey with a buzz-saw, rock a boat or lean over a precipice. Neither is it wise to carry money or valuable papers about with you. Unnecessary risk is always foolish. The proper place for your money is a good bank and the best place for your papers and other valuables is a fire and burglar proof safe deposit vault. A checking or savings account with The First National Bank of Connelleville insures the absolute safety of your money and a box in the safe deposit department affords the best security for your valuables. Better go to the bank—129 West Main street—at once and eliminate all possibility of loss from carelessness, fire or thieves.

At South Side Hospital.
Mrs. Catherine Stevens of Mt. Bradford, who underwent a serious operation at the South Side Private hospital, is able to be about today for the first time since undergoing the operation.

The Measure of a Man.
The characteristics of the present time are distinctly commercial. The man whose name will live in after years is the man who has the ability to use properly his portion of the vast wealth which is being accumulated in every corner of the world. The power to conserve money is the mark of a true greatness. The City Savings National Bank, 133 Pittsburgh street.

DUNBAR.

DUNBAR, Oct. 16.—A very sad death occurred here on Monday evening about 10 o'clock when Mrs. Margaret Callaghan, wife of Jerry Callaghan, a well known and respected citizen of Dunbar township, died at her home. Mrs. Callaghan had been about her work as usual and seemed to be in good health, although two weeks ago she was very sick, but had recovered and was in her usual health until a short time before her death, when she began to complain. She grew gradually worse until summoned to the great beyond. Acute inflammation was the cause of her death. Deceased was a woman of good, true Christian character and a mother to every one in time of trouble, always ready to assist in time of trial. She was a good, kind and loving mother to her children. Mrs. Callaghan was a devout member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and was always ready to assist in all church work. She was the daughter of the late Ellen and Lawrence Flood and was born near Uniontown. Deceased was in her 54th year, she having resided in Dunbar for 35 years and was married 33 years ago. Besides her husband, Lawrence, Callaghan, she is survived by the following children: John, Thomas, Mary, Agnes, William and Joseph, at home, and Lawrence, James, Edward, and the following brothers and sisters: Miss Mary Flood, Mrs. Anna Carter, of Dunbar, and Mrs. Theresa Connor of Hazleton, Pittsburg, James Flood, of Hazleton, and Thomas Flood of Dunbar. Funeral will be held on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Burial will be in the cemetery. Interment will be made in the St. Anthony's cemetery.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Protestant Church will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Milton Watson. All members are requested to be present as the final arrangements for the chicken and waffle supper will be made, which will be held in the basement of the church next Tuesday from 5 to 8:30. Supper will be served and tickets are $1.00. Frank Frost, the blacksmith, was a business caller in Uniontown.

TO GET BETTER HOMES

Location of the Old Company Houses in the Smoke of the Ovens Was Disagreeable and the New Town
Provided is Clean and Healthy.

The last of the unsightly Frick houses which hampered the view and added to the annoyance of travel on open cars in summer time at Youngstown, just this side of Lomont, has been torn down, and but for the old foundations and numerous piles of lumber the unpleasant memories of the past would have no reminder.

These houses were located by the founders of the works and after the purchase of the works by the Frick company the matter of removing them to a more inviting location has been thought of. The difficult problem was to secure a suitable town location, but this was removed when the company secured the Hunkins farm north of the works. Then plans were taken up and an ideal coke town located. A large field, between the public road leading from Youngstown to the Uniontown road, and the Hunkins home mansion was appropriated. This field drops slightly in all directions from the central elevation furnishing natural drainage. This was plotted carefully with streets running east-west and north-south, and water mains tapping the big Trotter Water Company's line that passes nearby, were laid and connections for each house to be erected.
Then William Hoffer of Scotland, the Frick boss carpenter who has built more new and reconstructed and modernized more houses for the company than any other man in its service, was called, the plans submitted and he was ordered to make the transformation. This was in early summer, and since the work has been progressing steadily until now this town is attracting attention and general commendation.

This new town, which has not yet been officially named, in addition to some dozen double blocks erected within the past two years, consists of seventeen double blocks. Two of the blocks, have twelve rooms each, two have ten rooms and the other thirteen consist of eight or nine room buildings. These all have modern concrete foot, proof cellars and each block will be furnished with water

A NEW PLAN

Adopted in Morgantown to Cut Cost of Living Down.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 18.—
The employees of the tin mill, immediately in their efforts to secure lower prices for foodstuffs in Morgantown, have ordered three carloads of potatoes, containing 1,500 bushels, from Michigan. The cars were shipped from Michigan yesterday and are being secured by the tin mill people, delivered to their homes at 75 cents per bushel. The price charged by the local dealers is $1.50 per bushel.

The potatoes were ordered by Mr.
Loyd at the request of the employees of the mill. The employees at the Mississippi factory will probably combine and order a carload of potatoes.

Charges of shortweight and short measure and violations of the law in this respect have been made against some of the local merchants. It is charged that some of the merchants are selling only 45 pounds of potatoes for a bushel, while the legal weight is 60 pounds. In some instances the potatoes are not even measured but are poured into a paper sack which is said to contain a peck.

LOOKING FOR MORE

Our Clothing Department has not disappointed us on the first day of our great CHALLENGE SALE. The merchandise that we have so carefully selected found its way in a continuous stream into the hands of satisfied, smiling shoppers throughout the day, but we suspect that there are a few men and young men in Connellsville and Fayette county who have as yet not been introduced to this important department of this greatest of all stores in the county. Also, there are a few mothers who have not seen the beauty of the selection of our lines of children's and school suits. To the notice of those we wish to bring the announcement that our Clothing Department, third floor, is positively the newest and most comprehensive of any in the city, including Kuppenheimer's famous line of Suits and Overcoats, as well as many other makes of the first class variety. Remember the important feature of this department is that with every garment sold there goes a double guarantee of satisfaction—the manufacturer's and our own. No merchandise in this, as well as any other department in this store is considered sold until perfect satisfaction is secured.

Suppose you take a few minutes time today to call and investigate for yourself the strength of our claim that we offer better goods for less money than you thought probable.
The prices quoted below do not give an adequate conception of the real values that they represent. You must see the quality, the nobleness and the niftiness of the latest productions of the best looms and factories to appreciate the real worth of the goods.

ELECTRICITY FOR USE IN FARMING.

Saves Cost for Power and
Is a Big Labor Saver.

VARIOUS MEANS OF APPLYING

It is the General Run of Work During the Seasons in Farming, Both on a Large and Small Scale—Display in New York in November.

Except in a few isolated installations of comparatively recent creation, electricity has not as yet been identified with agriculture. In fact its importance in this field has been suggested. The use of electricity in the farming industry is a fairly well developed branch of this broad subject, and it is being used more and more for operation of pumps for irrigation. For the ordinary operations on farms, however, power is obtained from the most part from steam or gasoline engines and it is not infrequently that we see the old time tread mill still in use.

After you secure his confidence, it is not hard to show the progressive farmer the economy, convenience and minimum fire risk of electric light for his house, yard and farm buildings. In the event of trouble in the barn or yards at night, it is not necessary to get up in the dark and hunt for a lantern. A turn of a switch is all that is necessary. With the use of electricity, the modern farmer may have at his command all of those appliances which are commonly used in the city, namely: such important devices as the electric flat iron, washing machine, ice cream freezer, fan, vacuum cleaner, sewing machine motor, blinding and grinding sets, cooking and baking outfit, broiler, chafin dish, etc. These appliances appeal especially to the housewife.

Pumps are a very important item of farm equipment, and motors may be readily adapted to the operation of all types. The motor driven pump is superior, both as to economy and efficiency, when compared with pumps operated by windmills or other sources of power, interest and depreciation considered.

The automatic feature of the electric pump for drainage or tank-supply service will be invaluable to the farmer for all locations at a distance from the house.

Electric refrigeration likewise has a strong appeal for the farmer who has enough perishable produce to be able to use it to good advantage, and he is fully aware of the financial advantages of being able to keep his produce in cold storage to obtain higher prices. On farms where much milk is produced, and in every dairy, power for refrigeration and for circulating fresh milk over a cooling surface is a practical necessity.

Thillage the soil is now accomplished with electric power, the plow being drawn back and forth across the field by an endless wire cable actuated by electric-driven machinery. Disc-cultivators and harrows are similarly operated. When the season's crops are grown, the electric-driven thrasher comes into service. This thrasher is no different from the steam or gasoline driven machine, except that in this case it is belted to a portable motor attached by flexible cable to a convenient source of supply which is, in many cases, an outlet provided on a post to some point where it may be frequently required. Very important are the motor driven hay press and hay baler. There is further work for the portable motor in operating the husker and sheller, the sheller and similar machines. Feed grinders are generally driven from a small motor which is belted to a line shaft, as are also most choppers, crushers and wood working machinery, including circular saws, band saws, lathes, surfacers and planers. The electric gun pot is a logical adjunct, and an electric soldering iron would be a useful article on any farm having electric service. A type of electrically driven farm machinery, which should be built with its own motor is the challenge cutter, with blower and self feeder.

Appliances suitable for daily use in the dairy include the electric churn, milking machine, cream separator and butter worker. These are readily adapted to electric drive. Where the potential of the electric service is reasonably constant, the incubator has no equal and in barns and stables the electric horse-clippers and the vacuum cleaner are time and labor saving devices. There is a demand on every farm for repair work on wagons and general carpenter work. Consequently, all but small farms should be equipped with work-shops. Motor drive for this class of work may be readily adopted.

The system of employing a single portable motor for a number of machines, just as the present steam or gasoline engine is employed by the farmer, reduces the necessary investment. One or two such portable power devices suffice for the small farmer in this respect. The great mill is becoming a common piece of farm equipment, and electric drive may be readily applied to it.

Some very successful experiments have been carried on in recent years, especially in foreign countries, showing that electricity is directly beneficial to the growth of vegetation. The subject is scarcely in a satisfactory state at the present time, but some experiments have found good results with electric charges led directly into the soil, while others have obtained good results by arranging a net work of electrified conductors at a height of three or four feet above the growing crop. There is a field for the electric vehicle on the farm. The advantages of the electric truck over the horse drawn wagon, no doubt, will be equally as great for short hauls as in the city, especially so when we perfect the construction of our rural highways.

Electricity for the farmer is no longer a fancy, it is a fact. There is still room for the perfection of many commercial details that will make it possible for the farmer of moderate means to avail himself of this wonderful energy, but the central power stations are awakening to the importance of this class of business and it is safe to say that in the next five years we will see rapid advances in this direction.

The first ocular demonstration in public exhibition of a modern farm, equipped with a full complement of machinery electrically operated, is now being planned for by Putnam A. Bates, consulting engineer for the American Land and Irrigation Exposition, to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, November 2nd to 12th. In assembling this ideal installation, which will embody practically all of the ideas just described, Mr. Bates has engaged the co-operation and interest of the National Electric Light Association, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and other leading scientific organizations, as well as the leading electrical manufacturers and makers of modern farm machinery. Such a display, being the first of the kind, will add impetus to the development of agricultural work and will be an important item in the engineering and machinery division of the Exposition. In this division Mr. Bates is arranging to have exhibits illustrating good road construction, sewage and land drainage, water supply systems, irrigation, construction of farm buildings, electrical and gasoline motor trucks, farm implements and mechanical apparatus of all kinds required by the farmer.

Tona Vita Brings Back Ambition

Half sick, tired all the time, no energy or ambition, with your nerves on edge and your stomach out of order, how can you expect to get any happiness out of life when in such a miserable state?

You can't, and you won't, until you find relief from the debilitated condition that is sapping your vitality and robbing you of your strength.

Physicians know that half the population in the large cities of this country are today afflicted with nervous debility caused by the wear and tear of modern life.

A preparation has been used by European physicians to combat this nervous condition with remarkable success. A similar preparation "Tona Vita" was introduced in this country a few months ago and is making a marvelous record here. "Tona Vita" is bringing back health and happiness to thousands of nervous, debilitated men and women. You owe it to your family, you owe it to yourself to let this wonderful new tonic build you up. There is no better medicine like it on earth; one dose will convince you of this. If "Tona Vita" doesn't do more for you than all the other medicines you have ever taken, if it doesn't make you happier and healthier and better in every way, what you pay for it will be returned to you by A. A. Clarke.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the standard remedy, is another sure medicine. It is a splendid family laxative, containing the medicinal properties of rhubarb—nature's own laxative. It will not injure the most delicate constitution and should be used for children above everything else. It is pleasant to the taste.

A. A. Clarke has the Connellsville agency for "Tona Vita" and Lee's Rhubarb Laxative.

THIRD ANNUAL FAIR

Of the Somerset County Agricultural Association in November.

SOMERSET, Pa., October 18.—(Special.)—The Somerset County Agricultural Society will hold its third annual fair in the assembly room in the court house on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 27, 28, 29 and 30. Interest in the fair has grown tremendously during the past few years, and many more exhibits will be made than on the two former occasions.

Next year it is planned to hold an outdoor exhibition, when live stock will be added to the available exhibits, and preparations for a big display in 1912 are already being made. An attractive premium list of cash prizes for first and second best displays of various kinds of products has been compiled.

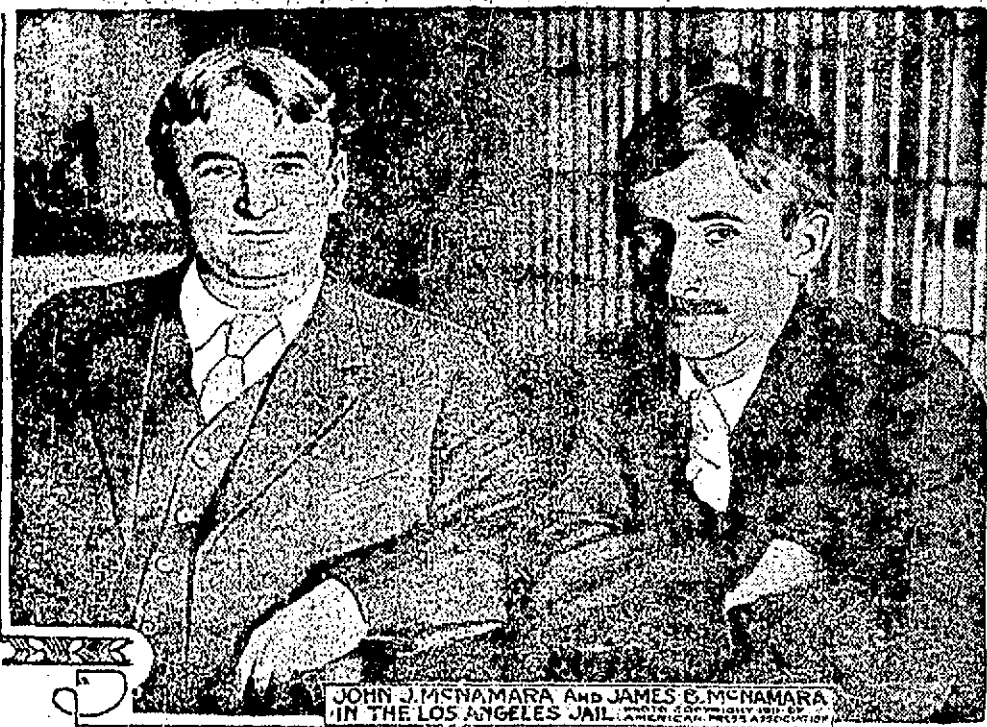

Bat Nelson Loses. BOSTON, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Clever boxing gave Pat Moore of Philadelphia the decision over Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, in a 12-round bout here last night. Moore landed at will, but with little effect. Nelson devoted his efforts to fighting almost entirely. His body blows were terrific and at times winded his opponent.

Wants, for rent, for auto, etc., cost only one cent a word.

M'NAMARAS IN JAIL EXPRESS CONFIDENCE IN THE OUTCOME OF TRIAL NOW BEGUN.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 18.—James J. and John B. McNamara, the men accused of dynamiting the plant of the Los Angeles Times, manifest a strong degree of confidence in the outcome of their trials on the charge of murder. John B. McNamara was called to the bar first, and it was shown as soon as the effort to get a jury was begun that the relations of labor and capital were to play an important part in the trial. The picture

SURELY BREAKS UP A BAD COLD.

The Most Severe Cold and Grippe Misery Will Be Relieved in Just a Few Hours.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pope's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most unbearable headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, sore eyes, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pope's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pope's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

Presence of Mind Saved Brother's Life

The remarkable presence of mind of Charles Ringer, of Hunter, saved his little brother from a fearful death Monday night. While playing with a torch the little brother, William Ringer, eight years old, accidentally ignited his wrist. As he started to run the flames blazed up fiercely, whereupon his brother Charles, jerked off his own coat and quickly wrapped it about his brother, smothering the flames. Both boys were burned, but not seriously.

MINERS' DAY PLANS

Are All Completed for President Day at Forbes Field.

Details of the program for the first annual national field day of coal miners' first aid teams at Forbes Field on October 31 are being announced as the committee working them into shape proceeds with its task. It was announced yesterday that at least 30,000 persons would be on the field and that at least 20,000 of these would be coal miners. President W. H. Taft and Gov. John K. Tener will be the guests of honor and will watch the miners' teams demonstrate what they do in case of accidents that bring injury to human beings in the coal mines. Following the tests to be made President Taft will present trophies to the winning teams. The miners also will be addressed by the President and by Secretary Walter L. Fisher of the Department of the Interior, and by Miss Mabel Boardman, president of the National Executive Committee of the Red Cross Society.

The exhibit and test of ability of coal miners to handle injured workmen at the mines, due to accident, will be under the direction of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Relieves Backache Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates, and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the War and in San Francisco two years ago I was laid up for a month. I tried all kinds of drugs without success. Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle to try. The first application cured me, and I am cured now."

CASCARETS SURELY STRAIGHTEN YOU OUT.

No Headache, Bloating, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage through those alimentary or drainage organs every few days with Salts, Cathartic pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters.

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never grip, sicken or cause any inconvenience and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bloating, coated tongue, indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Then the grin died away, and his face grew black and serious. Leaving out his interests in the several Western reclamation projects (which were still assessing heavily), he was a ruined man. But harder hit than this was his pride. He had been so easy. They had gold-bricked him, and he had nothing to show for it. The simplest farmer would have had documents, while he had nothing but a gentleman's agreement, and a verbal one at that. Gentleman's agreement! He snorted over it. John Dowsett's voice, just as he had heard it in the telephone receiver, sounded in his ears the words, "On my honor as a gentleman." They were sneaky thieves and swindlers, that was what they were, and they had given him the double-cross. The newspapers were right. He had come to New York to be trimmed, and Messrs. Dowsett, Letton and Guggenhammer had done it. He was a little fish, and they had played with him ten days—ample time in which to swallow him, along with his eleven millions. Of course, they had been intending on him all the time, and now they were saying "Ward Valley back for song or the market righted itself."

And Daylight sat and consumed cocktails and saw back in his life to Alaska, and lived over the grim years in which he had battled for his eleven millions. For awhile murder ate at his heart, and wild ideas and sketchy plans of killing his betrayers flashed through his mind. Daylight unlocked his grip and took out his automatic pistol—the big Colt's .44. He released the safety catch with his thumb, and, operating the sliding outer barrel, ran the contents of the clip through the mechanism. The eight cartridges slid out in a stream. He refilled the clip, threw a cartridge into the chamber, and with the trigger at full cock, thrust up the safety catch. He shoved the weapon into the side pocket of his coat, ordered another Martini, and resumed his seat.

At ten o'clock he arose and pored over the city directory. Then he put on his shoes, took a cab, and departed into the night. Twice he changed cabs, and finally fetched up at the night office of a detective agency. He superintended the thing himself, laid down money in advance in profuse quantities, selected the six men he needed, and gave them their instructions. Never, for so simple a task, had they been so well paid; for to each in addition to office charges, he gave a five-hundred dollar bill, with the promise of another if he succeeded. Some time next day, he was convinced, if not sooner, his three silent partners two of his detectives were to be attached. Time and place was all he wanted to learn.

For a While Murder Ate at His Heart, would come together. To each one

"Stop at nothing, boys," were his final instructions. "I must have this information. Whatever you do, whatever happens, I'll see you through."

Returning to his hotel, he changed cabs as before, went up to his room, and with one more cocktail for a nightcap, went to bed and to sleep. In the morning he dressed and shaved, ordered breakfast and the newspapers sent up, and waited. But he did not drink. By nine o'clock his telephone began to ring and the reports to come in. Nathaniel Letton was taking the train at Terrytown. John Dowsett was coming down by the subway. Leon Guggenhammer had not stirred out yet, though he was assuredly within. And in this fashion, with a map of the city spread out before him, Daylight followed the movements of his three men as they drew together. Nathaniel Letton was at his office in the Mutual-Solander Building. Next arrived Guggenhammer. Dowsett was still in his own office. But at eleven came the word that he also had arrived, and several minutes later Daylight was in a hired motor-car and speeding for the Mutual-Solander Building.

CHAPTER IX.

Nathaniel Letton was talking when the door opened; he ceased, and with his two companions gazed with controlled perturbation at Burning Daylight striding into the room. The free, swinging movements of the trail traveler were unconsciously exaggerated in that stride of his. In truth, it seemed to him that he felt the trail beneath his feet.

"Howdy, gentlemen, howdy," he remarked, ignoring the unnatural calm with which they greeted his entrance. His shookey hands with them in turn, striding from one to another and gripping their hands so heartily that Nathaniel Letton could not forbear to wince. Daylight flung himself into a massive chair and sprawled lazily, with an appearance of fatigue. The leather grip he had brought into the room he dropped carelessly beside him on the floor.

"I've sure been going some," he sighed. "We sure trimmed them beautifully. It was real slick. And the beauty of the play never dawned on me till the very end. It was pure and simple knock down and drag out. And the way they fell for it was amazing."

Letton made a dry sound in his throat. Dowsett sat quietly and waited, while Leon Guggenhammer struggled into articulation.

"You certainly have raised Cain," he said.

Daylight's black eyes flashed in a pleasant way. "Didn't I, though!" he proclaimed, jubilantly. "And didn't we fool 'em! I was testotally surprised. I never dreamed they would be that easy."

"And now," he went on, not permitting the pause to grow awkward, "we'll might as well have an accounting. I'm pulling West this afternoon for that blamed Twentieth Century." He tugged at his grip, got it open, and dipped into it with both his hands. "But don't forget, boys, when you all want me to horsewoggle Wall Street another flutter, all you'll have to do is whisper the word. I'll sure be right there with the goods."

His hands emerged, clutching a great mass of stubs, check-books, and broken receipts. These he deposited in a heap on the big table, and dipping again, he fished out the stragglers and added them to the pile. He consulted a slip of paper, drawn from his coat pocket and read aloud: "Ten million twenty seven thousand and forty-two dollars and sixty-eight cents is my figurin' on my expense. Of course that's all taken from the winnings before we all got to figurin' on the whack-up. Where's your figures? It must a' been a mighty big clean-up."

The three men looked their bewilderment at one another. The man was a bigger fool than they had imagined, or else he was playing a game which they could not divine.

Nathaniel Letton moistened his lips and spoke up. "It will take some hours yet, Mr. Haraluh, before the full accounting can be made. Mr. Howison is at work upon it now. We—ah—as you say, it has been a gratifying clean-up. Suppose we have lunch together and talk it over. I'll have the clerks work through the noon hour so that you will have ample time for your train."

Dowsett and Guggenhammer manifested a relief that was almost obvious. The situation was clearing. It was disconcerting, under the circumstances, to be sent in the same room with this heavy-muscled, Indian-like man whom they had robbed. They remembered unpleasantly the many stories of his strength and rocklike tenacity. Letton could only put him off long enough for them to escape into the peaceful world outside the office door, all would be well; and Daylight showed all the signs of being put off.

"I'm real glad to hear that," he said. "I don't want to miss that train, and you all have done me proud, gentlemen, letting me in on this deal. I just do appreciate it without being able to express my feelings. But I am sure straightly curious, and I'd like terrible to know, Mr. Letton, what your figures of our winning is. Can you all give me a rough estimate?"

Nathaniel Letton did not look appealingly at his two friends, but in the brief pause they felt that appeal pass out from him. Dowsett, of sterner mold than the others, began to divine that the Klondiker was playing. But the other two were still under the blandishment of his child-like innocence.

"It is extremely—er—difficult," Leon Guggenhammer began. "You see, Ward Valley has fluctuated so, er—"

"That no estimate can possibly be made in advance," Letton supplemented.

"Approximate it, approximate it," Daylight counseled, cheerfully. "It don't hurt if you all are a million out one side or the other, all right, straighten that up. But I'm that curious I'm just itching all over. What d'ye say?"

"Why continue to play at cross purposes?" Dowsett demanded abruptly and coldly. "Let us have the explanation here and now. Mr. Haraluh is laboring under a false impression, and he should be set straight."

By this time Letton was stiffened by the attitude Dowsett had taken, and his answer was prompt and definite. "I fear you are under a misapprehension, Mr. Haraluh. There are no winnings to be divided with you. Now don't get excited, I beg of you. I have but to press this button."

Far from excited, Daylight had all the seeming of being stunned. He looked at Dowsett and murmured: "It was your deal, all right, and you all dole them right, too. Well, I ain't kicking. I'm like the player in that poker game. It was your deal, and you all had a right to do your best. And you done it—cleaned me out slicker'n a whistle."

He gazed at the heap on the table with an air of stupefaction. "And that ain't all worth the paper it's written on, is it, you all can sure read 'em round when you get a chance. Oh, no, I ain't a kicking. It was your deal, and you all certainly done me, and a man ain't held a man that squeals on another man's deal. And now the hand is played out, and the cards are on the table, and the deal's over, but—"

His hand, dipping swiftly into his inside breast pocket, appeared with the big Colt's automatic. "As I was saying, the old deal's finished. Now it's my deal, and I'm a-going to see if I can hold them four necks."

"Take your hand away, you waited sapulchro!" he cried sharply.

Nathaniel Letton's hand, creeping toward the push button on the desk, was abruptly arrested. "Change cars," Daylight commanded. "Take that chair over there you gangrene livered skunk. Jump, or I'll make you leak till folks'll think your father was a water hydrant and your mother a sprinkling cart. You all move your chair alongside, Guggenhammer; and you all Dowsett, sit right there, while I just irreverently explain the virtues of this here automatic. She's loaded for big game and she goes off eight times. She's a sure hummer when she gets started."

"Preliminary remarks being over, I now proceed to deal! Remember, I ain't making no remarks about your

"Now It's My Deal, and I'm Going to See if I Can Hold Them Four Aces"

deal. You done your damndest, and it was all right. But this is my deal, and it's up to me to do my damndest. In the first place, you all know me. I'm Burning Daylight—savvy? Ain't afraid of God, devil, death, nor destruction. Them's my four aces, and they sure cover your bets. Look at that there living skeleton. Letton, you're sure afraid to die. Your bones is all rattling together you're that scared. And look at that fat Jew there. This little weapon's sure put the fear of God in his heart. He's yellow as a sick parson.

Dowsett, you're a cool one. You all ain't batted an eye nor turned a hair. That's because you're great on arithmetic. And that makes you all dead easy in this deal of mine. You're sitting there and adding two and two together, and you all know I sure got you skinned. You know me, and that I ain't afraid of nothing. And you all adds up all your money and knows you ain't a going to die if you can help it."

"I'll see you hanged," was Dowsett's retort.

Not by damned sight. When the fun starts, you're the first I plug. I'll hang all right, but you all won't live to see it. You all die here and now while I'll die subject to the law's delay—savvy? Being dead, with grass growing out of your carcasses, you won't know when I hang, but I'll have the pleasure a long time of knowing you all beat me to it."

"You surely won't kill us," Letton asked in a quaver, thin voice.

Daylight shook his head. "It's sure too expensive. You all ain't worth it. I'd sooner have my chips back. And I guess you all'd sooner give my chips back than go to the dead house."

A long silence followed. "Well, I've done dealt. It's up to you all to play. But while you're deliberating, I want to give you all a warning. If that door opens and any old of you comes lets on there's anything unusual, right here and then I sure start plugging. They ain't a soul 'I got out of the room except first."

A long session of three hours followed. The deciding factor was not the big automatic pistol, but the certitude that Daylight would use it. Not alone were the three men convinced of this, but Daylight himself was convinced. He was firmly resolved to kill the men if his money was not forthcoming. It was not an easy matter, on the spur of the moment, to raise ten millions in paper currency, and there were vexatious delays. A dozen times Mr. Howison and the head clerk were summoned into the room on these occasions the pistol lay on Daylight's lap, covered carelessly by a newspaper, while he was usually engaged in rolling or lighting his brown-paper cigarette. But in the end, the thing was accomplished. A suit case was brought up by one of the clerks from the waiting motor car, and Daylight snapped it shut on the last package of bills. He paused at the door to make his final remarks.

In the Labor World. Labor Commissioner Smith, of Detroit, has declared that woman shall not be employed to work in Detroit saloons.

During the last three months the railway carmen organized fourteen new unions and increased their membership by 2,825.

The miners, transport workers and blast furnace men exploiting the iron mines of the Island of Elba have been on a strike for some time.

The union of glass workers and glaziers of Sacramento has been granted an increase of 50 cents a day under an agreement effective November 13. The men will receive $1.50 a day, with half holiday on Saturday.

The work of the label section of the San Francisco Labor Council, in pushing the use of union brooms, has resulted in such an increase in demand that all the broom makers in that city are now employed.

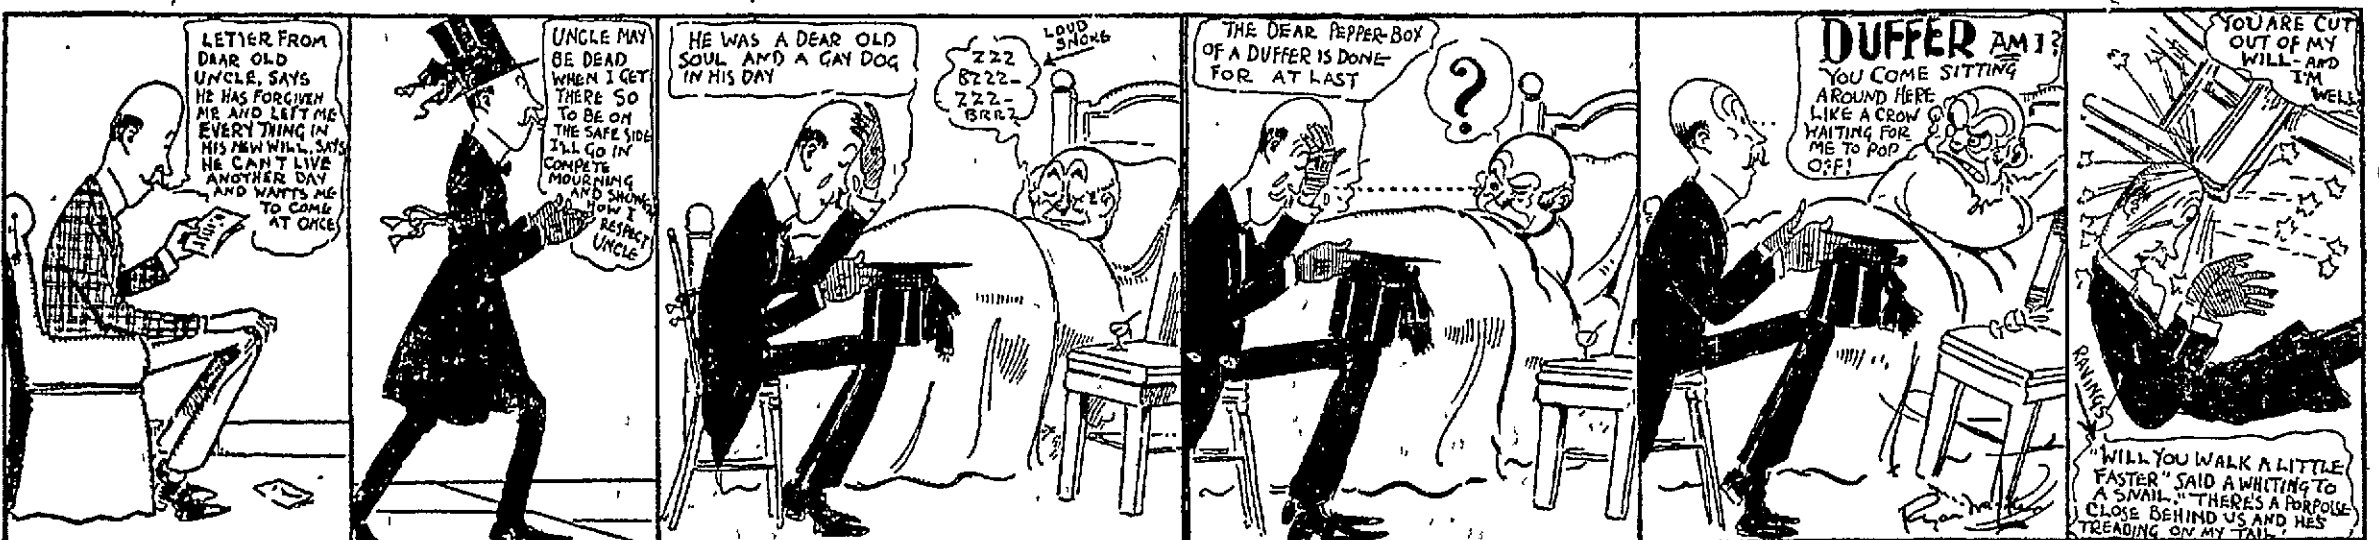

During the first six months of the present year the International Union of Bricklayers has paid 402 death claims, amounting to about $68,900.

NEW YORK WENT BASEBALL MAD WHEN THE GIANTS AND THE ATHLETICS MET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—This town has been baseball mad for a week, and as the struggle for the world's championship continues the excitement spreads. Forty thousand fans saw the first game in this city last Saturday, that many more would have seen it if they could have bought tickets.

and ten times that number watched bulletin boards where figures showing the progress of the game were displayed. The game itself was ideal from all points of view. Spectators got their money's worth, the captains and players following the instructions of the umpire to the letter. While there was intense rivalry between the teams, there was no shadow of ill-feeling and a high degree of sportsmanship was displayed. The pictures were made at the Polo grounds during the first game for the world's championship.

ATHLETICS ENTERING FIELD

The Interest of Local Fans

Local interest in the World's Series is keen and growing more intense with each succeeding game. It is a question which team had the greatest support here at the start of the series but right now the Athletics look like the goods to a majority. There is some betting on the series. As late as yesterday afternoon one small wager was placed 10 to 8 on the Giants, but that was prior to Baker's home run. A number of bets had been made here that Mathewson would lose the next game he pitched and the Athletic backers took the money.

Martin Beecher, Karl Kramor, William McCormick and a number of others have been standing loyally by "De Joints" throughout the series, and standing the brunt of quite a bit of good natured fun. Beecher being marked as a victim from the start. Tom Glavert picks the Athletics to win. "I haven't missed for a long time," says Tom. He hoped Johnson to beat Jeffries, the Cubs to beat Detroit, Pittsburgh to beat Detroit and the Athletics to beat the Cubs.

A number of fans are getting the returns at the brokerage office of C. P. McCullough in the First National Bank building. Although the contests start while the market is still active, results of the innings and important details are flashed and Manager C. L. Brennan is giving mighty good service. If the series continues until Saturday the results will be received play by play from the start.

The name of Baker was on every tongue last evening. When the ball came in the fatal ninth that he had lifted the ball into the bleachers for a homer and tied the score, the demonstration here was strenuous. "What do you think of Baker?" was the eternal question. Before details of the game had been received the question was asked a hundred times whether Baker had made a second homer in the eleventh, it having been learned that Collins was on and linker up just prior to the scoring of the runs.

NURSE TELLS OF CURES BY CUTICURA

Soap and Ointment in Past 20 Years. Always Recommends Them.

"I have seen the Cuticura Remedies used with best results during the past twenty years. In my work as a nurse, many skin diseases have come under my observation, and in every instance, I always recommended the Cuticura Remedies as they always gave relief. One of the most common skin diseases is that of a lady friend of mine who, when a child, was afflicted with eczema which covered her face and hands, and she was breaking out at intervals with severe eruptions. She could not go to school as the disfigurement looked terrible. I told her to get at once a box of the Cuticura Remedies. After the use of one box she was perfectly well. A young lady friend was afflicted with salt and her hands were cracked and she was cured by the Cuticura Remedies. Still another lady had dry skin, which in both hands and feet was very itchy. She used Cuticura Remedies which cured her. I have also seen them cure children of ringworm, the children were under my care. The Cuticura Remedies were completely cured. My husband had rheumatism on his arm and leg and he was in great pain. He used Cuticura Remedies which cured him. He is now as limber and free as a bird. I was quite stiff before I began to apply the Cuticura Remedies.

Football Notes.

Yale made the best showing among the eastern teams so far this season.

Walker Suggs, Harvard's old center, is officiating in football games in the Middle West.

The Harvard substitutes and second team have been putting up a great game against the Harvard first-string men.

Pennsylvania's backfield is very fast and is as good as when Bill Hollenbach and Andy Smith were in the combination.

The Brown University team will be very light this year, with probably not more than ten men weighing more than 150 pounds.

Millinery Rooms, 2nd Floor.

More Trimmed Hats at $4.98

Worth $6.50 and $7.50

High class model hats furnished the inspiration to the skillful "executants" of our millinery workrooms, and the results are to be seen in the new hats that have trooped in for a showing today. Display windows will contain models, also. These new ones are harmonies of color-tone and style in delightful variety. One of the attractive features of choosing at Wright-Metzler's, giving great diversity of choice in setting face, figure and fancy, is that—not a hat is exactly repeated.

There are large hats, bow trimmed, and high hats of felt, velvet or velour, draped or completed with a bird head, feather or fancy braid; and small hats trimmed in a score of novel styles.

Children's Hats at $1.69 from $2.00; and $2.48 from $3.00 in Royal, grey, cardinal, brown, navy and black—all good school colors and serviceable.

Drink Craving Destroyed.

No more terrible affliction can come to any man than the craving for strong drink of husband and father. We appeal to wives, mothers and sisters to save the husband and father or brother with ORLINE, a scientific treatment.

ORLINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment in a powder absolutely invisible and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORLINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take a salubrious treatment. ORLINE costs only $1.00 a box. Call at our store for a free booklet, telling all about this new scientific article, which we have been selling for a number of years.
